Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to eat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Most thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatness of the blood from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body. This can be corrected by the use of Sargol, a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has in the food. This can probably best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a powerful stimulant of the splendid assimilative agents. Taken with meals, they mix with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues everywhere, and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Lee & Osgood, Norwich, and Chesboro's Drug Store, Willimantic, and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase.

NOTE—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of general mal-nutrition, etc., have been reported, care should be taken about using it unless a gain of weight is desired.

Congregational Sunday School to Have Picture of Bethlehem for Christmas Exercises—John Owen Appointed Policeman—Injured Helen Dubuc Recovering—Brooklyn Man Falls from Haymow.

The Congregational Sunday school has planned for the greatest Christmas services in its history. The selected picture of Bethlehem for the exercises is a fine one. The entire front of the church, back of the platform, will be transformed into a panoramic view of Bethlehem and the plains of the shepherds. It is made from recent photographs showing landscapes, buildings, trees, etc., in natural colors as they appear at the present time; but little different from what they were at the time of Christ's advent. The maker of the picture says of it: "The background in itself provides a new and rich Christmas treat worth going miles to see." The service will be on Sunday evening, Dec. 26th, at 5 o'clock, and will thus not overlap any other meeting.

COOPERATIVE BUYING.

County Agent Kennedy Outlines Plan For Organization With This Object.

Agent W. C. Kennedy of the Windham County Farmers' association has issued the following relative to cooperation in the matter of buying:

Soon after I arrived in the county, I was asked about cooperative buying of fertilizer and if the new county agent was going to supply the county with its fertilizer. I found an altogether wrong impression of the duties of a county agent relative to buying of supplies. Consequently there are probably many who were disappointed when I did not issue a general recommendation regarding the use of fertilizers, and a statement that all who wanted such goods could get them at the office of the Farm Bureau. I succeeded, however, in having a few farmers in Woodstock together in the right way, and in cooperating with them in the purchase of a carload of fertilizer. Pure chemicals could not be bought. I got prices from about a dozen of the leading fertilizer companies, and those submitted by the company selected by the Woodstock farmers with which to do business were so favorable that they saved rope that slipped under his foot and allowed him to pitch to the floor. Mr. Copeland has been confined to his bed.

Looking for Big Holiday Trade.

It was said Monday that Danielson's street lighting system for the holiday season may not be ready Wednesday, as was originally intended, but it is expected to have the special lights in place later in the week. The arrangements of the special street features for the holiday season are well advanced, and, in view of the prosperity of this section at this time, the business men are anticipating one of the most successful Christmas seasons in years, and are prepared to handle a rush of business.

Mrs. Edwin Keech and children, Flora and Philip, of Academy street, have been guests of relatives in Worcester.

about fifty dollars on their car of fertilizer. The scheme of organization which I followed then, and which I shall continue to follow, was this: When there is enough local interest in cooperative buying or selling, of anything those interested will be so organized that they are a local cooperative society (preferably incorporated). They will have their own officers and will conduct their own business. Any aid that the Farm Bureau can render will be at their service. Such a cooperative organization must be local, simple, and for a single purpose; that is, for either buying or selling; and must have a paid manager, or business agent.
